*Labs are offered through outside providers; prices are an estimation and are subject to change. Basic labs are likely to be covered by insurance; more advanced labs and genetic testing are less likely to be. It is your decision to file with your insurance for reimbursement, although I can provide resources to assist with this.

**This includes services outside of appointments, such as letters, phone calls with other providers/family, prior authorizations, etc.

***This is intended to provide you with a general estimate of what your treatment might cost. The numbers listed represent the low and high estimates for each category of services. Actual fees will vary by circumstance and by any out-of-network insurance reimbursement, which I can help you submit. Medications and supplement regimens are unique, and prices will vary accordingly. Medication costs will also be affected by insurance coverage. Fees are subject to change over time, and you will be alerted of these changes before they occur.
